For Lovers of Old BooksSHADOWS OF THE OLD BOOKSELLERS

By CHARLES KNIGHT

With a Preface by Stanley Unwin

"To those who like to browse among and in old books, and to visit the haunts of authors, booksellers and publishers, Mr. Knight's book will undoubtedly give great pleasure. It gives not only interesting facts about people, but also about books and the ways and means by which they were brought to the attention of the public in the olden days. It is an old book about old books, and as such it is especially very welcome."—Boston Transcript.

For Your Clerks

EVERY clerk on the year round staff of a book shop is better prepared with information about books and the tools to find them if he is receiving an individual subscription to The Publishers' Weekly. Each extra subscriptions, where the book shop already subscribes for one at the regular rate, will cost you but $3.00 per year.

Now is the time to enter subscriptions for your clerks to be mailed regularly during 1929. Think this over!

Forthcoming Issues

The leading article in next week's issue is by Dale Warren, Publicity Director of Houghton Mifflin. It's called "To Send or Not to Send" and is a very careful statement of the publishers' review copy problem.

This is closely connected with the problem of the book review page for the small paper which has recently been discussed in the Weekly by George Ford Milton, and Edwin Björkman.

"Why This Aversion to Books of Short Stories?" asks Helen Moran in the December 8 issue, and if you yourself are a lover of short stories you share her wonder. Also if you are a lover of the short story, you will read Fannie Hurst's article on the short story which will appear in a January issue.

And Ellis Meyers, who has been reading Doris Schneider's article in our November 24 issue, will remind her and us and all booksellers who intend to do any advertising, or even those who've not quite made up their minds, that the A. B. A. is ready to help booksellers with the preparation of their copy.

January renews our interest in travel books. Clara Laughlin in this issue writes on travel to Europe. Within the month we shall carry an article on the new round the world cruises. Several of these cruises include Africa this year, so we shall carry a selected list of books on Africa. Soon after that we are to have an article on Spain by Herschel Brickell. Spain has been included in more and more tourist itineraries lately, and this year will attract more visitors than usual because of the Barcelona and Seville exhibitions.

January 19 is the Annual Summary Number which carries statistics of American and European book production, and other reviews of the year.
